

Name: _____

I can use regular and irregular plurals.

Most nouns form their plural by adding either s (books, castles, dragons) or es (boxes, crosses, witches). These are called regular plurals.

But not all nouns follow the same pattern. In fact, some of our most common nouns have an irregular plural form (child / children, woman / women).

Here is a list of nouns:

dwarf	goose	tower	loaf	man	city
mouse	ox	church	tooth	branch	wizard
thief	wife	foot	child	person	louse

Here is a list of their plural forms:

geese	mice	thieves	men	oxen	towers
churches	people	loaves	cities	wizards	feet
teeth	lice	dwarves	wives	branches	children

Match the singular noun with their plural form and write them in the correct shield.
